H'KONG PAPER, IN REPLY TO SUN, ASKS HIM WHY SECRECY

"If Motives Were Pure Why Burn Correspondence?"

ASKS MORE LIGHT

Sees No Mystery In Failure Of Powers To Help Him

(Special To The China Press)

Hongkong, Oct. 2.—The Morning Telegraph, replying to Dr. Sun Yat-sen's statement at Shanghai, in which he makes a general denial of the charge that he sought an alliance with Soviet Russia, asks him for a substantiation of his assertion that his letters were "improperly translated and partly false."

The newspaper says the letters were translated by two independent, disinterested and qualified translators, and that their versions differed only in idomatic variations which in no way affected the general sense of the letters. The newspaper emphatically asserts that there was nothing false in its translations in the sense of wilful misrepresentation.

The paper deals at length with Dr. Sun's denial of Bolshevism and calls attention to the reference to Von Hintze being a man of modern ideas and thoroughly in accord with Democratic institutions. It then goes on to ask Dr. Sun, if his sole aim was to obtain assistance for China from friendly nations, why he resorted to such secrecy, and why he interposed an injunction to burn his correspondence.

What possible object could he have, the newspaper asks, in keeping his countrymen ignorant of his activities in their behalf. It also points out that the conclusion of an alliance does not require the creation of a bureau "concerning the functions of which more light is needed."

The failure of foreign capitalists to respond to Dr. Sun's overtures to assist in the commercial development of China is easily explained, the newspaper says, by the fact that he was merely the self appointed "president" of one section of the country only.

Civil Governor Here Will Confer On Conservancy Issue

Called On Members Of Consular Body Yesterday

Mr. Han Kuo-chung, Civil Governor of Kiangsu, who arrived here from Nanking on Sunday, called on members of the local Consular Body yesterday. He was accompanied by Mr. Hsu Yuan, Special Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, and the latter's two secretaries, Messrs. S. K. Chen and N. T. Yang. Mr. Han will inspect the Woosung dykes today and if time permits, will review the police forces at Paoshan and Woosung this afternoon. The governor's main mission to Shanghai is to inspect the police in Shanghai and vicinity.

During his stay in Shanghai, Mr. Han will be the guest of Mr. Hsu. He will also confer with the latter on the proposal of the reorganisation of the Whangpoo Conservancy, which question occupied Mr. Hsu's attention considerably during his recent visit to Peking.

At the Shanghai North Station on Sunday evening, Mr. Han was met by a detachment of Chinese soldiery and was greeted by Commissioner Hsu, Messrs. Chen and Yang, Colonel Wang Yu-nun, aide to General Ho Feng-lin; Magistrate Shen Pao-chang, Taoyin Wang Kenting and Police Superintendent Hsu Kuo-liang. A number of mounted Sikh police acted as guard of honor as Governor Han journeyed through the Settlement.

Lowered Rates On China Products

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The Southern Pacific Railroad today announced a reduction in the freight rates on soya beans, China wood oil, bamboo and tea from the Pacific Coast to the East, effective October 17.

ASIATIC FLEET BRINGS 4,000 OFFICERS AND SAILORS HERE

Admiral Anderson, New Commander, In Charge

HURON, FLAGSHIP

Many Entertainments Are Planned—Ball Friday Night

Upwards of four thousand American sailors manning twenty two warcraft of the American Asiatic Fleet, together with men and officers of the U. S. S. Huron, Flagship of the Fleet, under command of Admiral E. A. Anderson arrived in port yesterday for a stay of a week or more in Shanghai. Admiral Anderson, new Commander of the Fleet, came in on the Huron at noon yesterday, having joined the Flagship at Chefoo after he had made a visit to Peking.

When eighteen destroyers of the Asiatic Fleet came to Shanghai late last June for a visit that continued through the Fourth of July it was held to be the biggest gathering of American naval units that had ever assembled in a Far Eastern port outside of Manila, about three thousand American sailors then were in port.

A big proportion of the contingent of the American Asiatic Fleet now in port, particularly the destroyers, are returning to Manila from target practice at Chefoo. A large part of the destroyer division now here is newly arrived in Far Eastern waters having arrived from the Adriatic and Europe.

ADMIRAL'S FIRST VISIT

Admiral Anderson, Commander-in-Chief of the Fleet, who succeeded Admiral Joseph Strauss, is making his first visit to Shanghai. He comes to the China Station from the United States by way of Europe, having made the voyage on the U.S.S. Black Hawk from Gibraltar to Chefoo.

Besides the Flagship Huron, other craft of the Asiatic Fleet including units of the Yangtsze Patrol now in port include seventeen destroyers, the Elcano, Finch, Pecos and General Alava, the Admiral's yacht.

It was noteworthy on the occasion of the visit of a big portion of the Asiatic Fleet last summer that an exceptional record was made by the men ashore as no disturbances that called for attention of the authorities arose at that time. Last night when hundreds of bluejackets came ashore few or no restrictions were imposed, though a strong naval patrol, numbering about fifty men from the Huron and the destroyers, were sent ashore to do police duty.

SUKIYAKI TONIGHT

Through the period of the visit of the American sailors here a number of entertainments for them will be given. The first of these is to be a Japanese Sukiyaki dinner that is to take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Navy Y.M.C.A. This affair is to be under the auspices of the Ladies of the Overseas League. In true Japanese fashion the sailor guests are to sit on the floor on mats while feminine members of the league will prepare the dinner on small Chinese stoves and serve it.

One of the big affairs of the visit of the Fleet will be the ball to the men of the Fleet to be given at The Town Hall Friday night by the Navy Y.M.C.A. under the auspices of the American Woman's Club, members of which will act as hostesses at the ball. Mr. George Fitch, Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. has assumed the direction of the affairs which will be attended by Admiral Anderson and his Staff, American Consul-General E. S. Cunningham and members of the American Consular Staff here and other American officials. It is expected that not less than 1,200 American sailors will attend the dance and a general invitation to all American and British ladies of the city has been issued. The dancing is to start at 9 o'clock and the famed band of the U.S.S. Huron is to provide the music.

Giesel Denies Knowledge Of Fake Liquor Making

Brought to trial in the French Mixed Court before Assessor F. Crepin and Magistrate Nieh yesterday, Mr. Albert Giesel, of the firm of Giesel and Company, pleaded not guilty to the charge of being in possession of spurious liquors of well known brands and placed the blame for the manufacture and sale of such liquors here upon Mr. A. C. Mack, a former employe.

The bringing of charges against Mr. Giesel followed a raid on the Giesel & Co. godowns in Chaoufoong Road and on a house in Yochow Road, where hundreds of cases of brandy, vermouth and other liquors alleged to be imitations of the brands specified on the labels were seized by the French and International Settlements police. The brands mentioned in the charges are Hennessey's brandy and Noilley Pratt vermouth.

Besides Mr. Giesel, Mr. Mack and several Chinese witnesses and Mr. Roberto Alba were examined and the case was later adjourned until tomorrow afternoon when it is expected that it will be concluded.

Mack, examined yesterday afternoon, after the defendant had spent most of the day's session in the witness box, displayed a reluctance to give testimony, replying that he "declined to answer" to many of the Court's interrogations. His testimony in other instances, the Court pointed out, differed from previous statements or from other testimony given.

Attorneys appearing in the case are Mr. H. Le Gouellec, for the prosecution, and Dr. O. Fischer for the defendant.

In the morning, after the complaint had been read to charging Mr. Giesel with placing French trademarks on spurious cognac, purporting to be the Hennessey brand and vermouth faked as Noilley Pratt, Dr. Fischer said that the defence was ready and M. Crepin then read the list of goods seized by the police when they raided the house at Yochow Road and the godowns in Chaoufoong Road. Books seized in the raids were on the Assessor's desk.

Following the plea of not guilty, the Court ordered all witnesses for the defence from the room.

In his statement to the Court, which augmented a previous declaration submitted direct to the Assessor and read in Court, Mr. Giesel professed ignorance of how the vermouth left his godowns. He said he had it there for storage and asserted that Mack must have stolen it.

"Mr. Mack evidently had an accomplice," he told the Court when questioned about other liquors which had been issued from the godowns and for which there are no records in the godown books.

Mr. Giesel said he learned of the fake liquor when the godown

DENBY PRAISES WORK DONE HERE BY THE NAVY 'Y'

Letter Of Appreciation Received From Department Head

A letter of appreciation for the work being done for sailors by the Navy Y. M. C. A. has just been received by Mr. W. W. Lockwood from Mr. Edwin S. Denby, Secretary of the Navy of the United States. The text of the letter follows:

On board U. S. S. Henderson,
Enroute from Guam
to Honolulu, T. H.
August 18, 1922.

My Dear Mr. Lockwood:

I thank you for your letter expressing appreciation of the visit of my wife and myself to the plant of the Y.M.C.A. in Shanghai. I assure you it was a pleasure for us to see what you are doing there. I have found in many cities the Y.M.C.A. is a very potent factor in taking care of the men of the Navy ashore, giving them opportunity for clean amusement and exercising upon them a beneficial influence. The Navy appreciated the work of the Y.M.C.A. very much, and I am glad to be the medium of the expression of this appreciation to you. May you have all success in your work. I know you are helping the Navy a great deal.

Sincerely yours,
EDWIN S. DENBY.

Chinese Official Denies Reports Of Dutch Expulsions

Denial that Chinese laborers have been expelled from Dutch colonies was made Sunday night by Mr. Li Moh-sze, of the Chinese Legation in Holland, who arrived during the day en route to Peking and addressed a meeting at the Merchants and Laborers Mutual Aid Society in the evening.

Mr. Li stated that such reports originated when one batch of laborers had been prevented from landing in the Dutch East Indies because of quarrels among themselves. Mr. Li paid a visit at the home of Dr. Sun Yat-sen while here.

Presidential Ships Jar Elsie's Artistic Sense

By Elsie McCormick

After making as many false starts as the griffins in the Fall Meet, we are finally on our way. The engines are throbbing, the portly ladies in the deck-chairs are assuming a pale green complexion as they complain to the steward about the fish served at lunch; children, deprived for the first time of their amahs, are making life interesting for the ship's cat; camera fiends are trying to get a picture of a gray cloud which somebody said was the top of Fujiyama; and a lady is telling the freight clerk her opinion of anybody who would set a wardrobe trunk on top of a cardboard hat-box; and the rest of the passengers are busy quizzing the room-boys about when we get into Yokohama and how long we stay there.

In other words, it is a highly orthodox voyage. It has successfully gone through the well-defined geological epochs of all regular voyages. The first is the Glacial Period, when all the passengers glare frostily at each other, and make whispered remarks behind their hands to convenient relatives, if any. This is followed by an era of greater warmth, when a passenger might offer a tentative smile if he meets another's eye—a vague kind of smile that can be applied to the horizon at an instant's notice if response is not forthcoming. Later on, when the fellow-voyagers become better acquainted, the Stone Hammer Age develops, and the sea-going anvils are kept ringing merrily until the vesel bumps the dock.

NO BRIDAL COUPLE

There is just one item that is lacking. Just as every boarding-school has its kleptomaniac, so every seaworthy craft that carries passengers should include a bride and groom. There are no brides and grooms on this boat. There isn't even a flapper. It is possible that a bride and groom will be taken aboard at Yokohama, when the ship stops to pick up its return supply of fresh lettuce. If this deficiency in the ship's equipment is not remedied, we mean to write to the company about it. Every ship should be supplied with a bride and groom to furnish romance, a vampire to replenish, and a gentleman of inbibing proclivities to supply low comedy. On the Atlantic lines, these types seem to be issued to each liner just like life-preservers. The Pacific lines would take equal care of their passengers' entertainment and comfort.

Incidentally, we don't like this trick of naming ships after the Presidents. Somehow it seems disrespectful to us to refer to the ivory and blue interior of one of our former Chief Executives, or to quote in crass feet the width of the Pre-

Southern Women To Give Tea Dance At Carlton Cafe Today

Arrangements are complete for the tea dance to be given this afternoon at the Carlton by the Southern Women's section of the American Woman's Club in behalf of the club building fund. In addition to the tea, which will include sugar and real cream from contented tin cans and a spoon to stir it with and a napkin to sop it up with in case you spill any of it, all, free, gratis and for nothing, there will be cabaret features gay-lore. In addition Joe Aronson has been sitting up until midnight every night for a month arranging a special musical program, and that is quite a concession on Joe's part, seeing that his usual bed time is nine thirty.

Tickets, if you have been so criminally careless as to have failed to get them in advance, will be on sale at the door, the only stipulation being that you must have the cash in your hand and a clean collar around your neck, as this is to be strictly a society shindig, with no hickory shirts admitted.

Today, at five, at the Carlton.

LONDON MUCH RELIEVED, BUT SITUATION IS STILL TENSE

Turks Continue To Make Sweeping Demands On Allies

GREEKS ACTIVE

Kemalists Cease Invasion Of The Neutral Zone

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 2.—The universal relief resulting from the favorable turn in the Near East is reflected in editorial articles in this morning's papers though it is pointed out that the path to peace is still beset with serious dangers and that it would be premature to assume that the problem will be promptly solved. The Turks are still making sweeping demands while post-revolutionary Greece's evident intentions and hopes regarding Thrace constitute another uncertain factor which is evidently also causing the Kemalists uneasiness. Several London papers are perturbed at the arrival of M. Venizelos and his call at the Foreign Office.

It is reported from Thrace that the Greek Army's morale is improving and that dangerous possibilities there are shown by the fact that frequent collisions between Greek troops and Turkish bands are already occurring.

The press generally is disposed to favor immediate Greek evacuation of Thrace if Angora promises acceptance of the terms of the Allied Note to which the British Government firmly adheres. It is suggested that an inter-Allied commission might then control Thrace pending a final settlement.

The Turks are still concentrating on the Ismid Peninusla though they have ceased to invade the neutral zone where the British now occupy the whole coast of the Narrows.

While the Opposition press gives credit for the improved outlook to Sir Charles Harington's sagacious handling the coalionist journal, the Daily Chronicle, declares that the incalculable disaster of the loss of the freedom of the Straits has been averted by the firm and reasonable stand which the British Government alone had the courage to make.

The fact that 175,000 refugees have already been shipped from Smyrna and that evacuation is still proceeding smoothly has given general satisfaction.

Athens, Oct. 2.—King George has assured the members of the Revolutionary Committee that his father's decision to abdicate is sincere and final.

Constantinople, Oct. 1.—There seems to be little doubt now that the Turkish forces in the Chanak region were merely intended as a blind while Kemal Pasha matured more serious plans. There is absolutely no evidence of any infantry or artillery anywhere within striking distance of the neutral zone.

British Commander Will Meet Kemal

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 1.—The correspondent of the Sunday Express at Constantinople reports that Sir Charles Harington has actually proceeded to Mudania to meet Kemal Pasha but the political correspondent of Lloyds News announces "definitely and with official authority that until Kemal withdraws from the neutral zone the Allies decline to meet him in conference." He concludes from this that no sort of meeting will be arranged until then.

Speculation is rife and not untinged with unfriendliness regarding the presence of M. Venizelos in London and also the forthcoming arrival of the Greek multimillionaire, Sir Basil Zaharoff, who for some time was credited with exercising great influence in political ciircles.

M. Venizelos was sought out by many journalists yesterday and eventually issued a statement to the effect that the new Greek Government are asking him to represent them in Europe but that he is first examining Allied opinion. He will probably visit the Foreign Office before returning to Paris to see M. Poincare on Tuesday.

Britain Eagerly Awaits Answer

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 1.—The whole of the country is anxiously waiting to hear what steps Sir Charles Harington has taken as a result of the instructions to demand the evacuation by the Turks of the neutral zone. The Cabinet was apparently equally unenlightened until yesterday evening and nothing was permitted to leak out of what transpired at the midnight meeting. Unconfirmed reports from Paris, however, indicate that the situation is somewhat easier as a result of a message from M. Franklin Bouillon, reflecting a more conciliatory attitude on the part of Kemal Pasha. The Earl of Cavan and Air-Marshal Sir Hugh Trenchard attended the midnight council while Earl Beatty was in telephonic communication.

Gen. Tang Now Has Many Opponents

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Sept. 29.—It is reported that General Tang Chi-yao, whose attention has lately been concentrated on the questions of provincial autonomy, disbandment of troops and abolition of military control, is now confronted with a group of opponents whose machinations may prove a serious menace. Chief among these is General Chang Kai-hsiang of General Koo Ping-chen's former followers, who has two thousand troops at Wuchow three thousand under General Yang Ti-shan at Liuchow and two thousand more at Kuchow under General Han Hsi-shan.

The Yunnanese General Chu Pei-ti who was recently driven from Hunan into Kwangsi has another three thousand soldiers who might be expected to participate in any movement against General Tang. General Tang is reported to be engaging in propaganda among these various forces and at the same time preparing for a joint attack on Kwangsi with General Chen Chiung-ming, in order to clear out the hornet's nest that is beginning to threaten the peace of his province.

MILITARY CONFERENCE

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 1.—It is reported from Smyrna that as a result of the conference between M. Franklin Bouillon and Kemal Pasha it is proposed that, subject to the approval of the Allies, a military conference shall be held at Mudania on October 3 to establish measures of procedure for the military evacuation of the neutral zones and Thrace. This conference will be preparatory to a diplomatic conference about October 15. It is proposed that Sir Charles Harington shall represent Britain.

RUSSIAN BALLET SCORES SUCCESS AT DEL MONTE

Dancers Please Big Crowd At The Opening Program

Appearing before a crowd which literally crowded the popular cafe to the doors, the new Russian ballet made a highly successful debut at the Del Monte last Saturday night and have been delighting equally large audiences since their initial program.

Solo dance numbers of a high artistic standard, some excellent singing and ensemble turns provocative of long applause and many encore calls made up the entertainment with which the new ballet introduced itself to Shanghai. The individual dances by Marusia Krasnapolskaya, Dora Spampanya, Jan Domaratsky, Helen Domaratsky, Klaudia Spampanya Zina Saretto, and Nina Korafskaya covered a wide range of national dances, done with admirable skill and dressed with much care and art. Mlle. Saretto's Spanish number calls for special mention, as does also Mlle. Korafskaya's Russian national dance.

The singing of Talia Bochogova was one of the most pleasing features in the long program. She has not only an excellent voice but also a most pleasing presence and sang without effort and with flattering effect a number of operatic pieces. The Gypsy Ballet scored a heavy success with the first-nighters. The Del Monte's Russian ballet was arranged by Mr. R. Hamilton. Jan Domaratsky is ballet master and the music is furnished by Billie Powers' orchestra.

Saturday night served not only to introduce the ballet to Del Monte patrons, but also brought to prominent gustatory notice the cafe's new French chief, M. Victor Gavlen, whose midnight supper specials registered with emphatic approval among the hungering.

Engineering Body Postpones Visit To Municipal Plant

Owing to the particularly inclement weather prevailing last Saturday, it was found advisable to postpone the inspection of the Municipal asphaltic concrete works by members of the Engineering Society of China. The inspection trip had been arranged through the courtesy of Mr. C. Harpur, Commissioner of Public Works and president of the Society. The postponed date of the inspection will be notified to members later.

was raided. He had no knowledge of any liquor being made in the godown except Sunnybrook whiskey.

After discussing the acquisition of certain quantities of bottled goods from various banks here which were in the godowns, Mr. Giesel said that some 700 cases of goods were taken by his firm from the Chinese American Bank. These were to be stored in his godowns, he said.

He said it was while he was trying to recover goods from Reid's, Limited, now in bankruptcy, that the United States Marshal seized the liquor which was consigned to America. The American authorities stored the goods in Pootung before Giesel and Company took them over, he asserted.

"This was in the middle of June and we took the goods because we had godown space to spare. The Chinese American Bank also wanted us to sell them," he said.

In answer to questions from the bench, Giesel said he took no notice of 225 cases of vermouth, the bottles in them bearing Noilley Pratt labels. "The goods did not and do not belong to us, we only stored them," he said. "They should be in the godowns yet."

Assessor Crepin shook his head and Mr. Giesel said: "Ah, yes, you shake your head, and I know now, too."

Continuing, he said: "In July Mack told me that we could sell 200 cases of the vermouth and I authorised him to complete the sale, but it was never concluded.

"Then the goods were taken from your godowns without your knowledge?" The Court suggested.

"Absolutely without my knowledge," Mr. Giesel replied.

"Then Mack stole them?" Mr. Giesel shook his head in the affirmative and said that he should have a bill, a godown record, and a delivery order. When told that no such record was entered in the godown books, Mr. Giesel retorted: "They are not MY books."

"I did not sell the 227 cases of Noilley Pratt. I never owned them. They were not mine. They were the property of the bank."

A minute or two later Mr. Giesel asserted that Mack had stolen the goods and subsequently in his examination, he declared that Mack had an accomplice. He said the cases were removed without his knowledge and from what he learned thought that they were taken from the godown on a Sunday.

He bought the Marie Noyon vermouth, which was seized in the raid, from the Mercantile Bank, he said.

When asked the direct question: "Did you know that Hennessey Brandy was being manufactured in your godowns," Mr. Giesel answered: "No."

"Why did you buy large quantities of spirits of wine from Hankow," the Court queried.

"This was used in the manufacture of whiskey."

"You have made whiskey?

"Yes."

MADE SPURIOUS U. S. WHISKY

He added that it was made "as good American whiskey, the same as manufactured in the United States."

"And it had a United States label on it, didn't it?" asked M. Crepin.

"Yes," was Mr. Giesel's reply.

He said he bought various kinds of liquor from other banks.

The Court returned to questions about the Noilley Pratt. Mr. Giesel insisted that he "never owned a bottle, bought a bottle, had a bottle or sold a bottle." He merely received it for storage from the Chinese American Bank.

Giesel and Company had no salesman in Shanghai, he said. Mr. Thomas Dixon was a travelling representative but worked through the South, going to the Philippines and South China.

"Possibly Mack tried to sell some of the goods."

"Do you know the Deshler Purchasing Agency?"

"On the day I was arrested, I learned that Mack had written a letter to this firm. I remember that Mack mentioned that the Deshler Purchasing Agency was in the market for a large quantity of beer to be shipped to North China."

The liquor from the Chinese American Bank was to have been relabelled and repacked, Mack told witness, he said, Mack having been advised by the bank, evidently. He did not know whether the labels were faked or not.

He then directly accused Mack of complicity and declared that it was not until a week ago that he had found out the truth about the business. "Then Mack was obliged to confess," he asserted.

"MACK CAN CLEAR ME!"

Mr. Giesel said that he was dependant on Mack's testimony to clear himself and expressed the hope that Mack would tell the truth "and then he will convict himself."

Mack has been dismissed from the firm, witness said. The Court pressed for an explanation of Mack's status and Mr. Giesel admitted that the former was in his employ and was paid a salary of $400 monthly. "We paid him for bottling and filling, although he was not exactly in our employ," witness said.

Mr. Giesel said he paid the godown man and the latter paid the staff. Witness signed the compradore orders as presented to him and did not deal directly with the men employed in the godown, he said.

Another foreigner, L. Battistizza, was employed at a salary of $100 monthly.

A group of labels was handed the witness. It contained one specimen of each package of labels seized in the police raid. Some of these Mr. Giesel said he did not know.

The discovery of a Chaponot label was the cause of tilt between attorneys for M. Le Gouillec, pointing to the label, said: "Surely, you being a German, know that Chaponot no longer exists."

When questioned as to the price list found in the godown which listed some goods not sold by Giesel and company, the defendant witness said that the business was liable to increase and the brands were included as quotations might be asked for and the firm might then have the goods.

Attorney Fischer frequently interjected with statements that Chaponot, or other labels, should not be discussed as Hennessey and Noilley Pratt were the only brands which should be considered in this case.

GOT ABSINTHE FROM BANK

Attorney La Franc testified that he had purchased a bottle bearing the label: Medoc Superieure, from Chaponot Freres, for $1.60. Attorney Fischer again objected.

Mr. Giesel admitted selling absinthe and said it was purchased from the Mercantile Bank, adding "If you say it has been rebottled, then you know more about it than I."

When asked if he had bought the right to use Merveille Freres labels and the right to place them on bottles, Mr. Giesel answered that he had bought the liquor from a French firm in Hankow.

Just before Court adjourned at noon it developed that many of the labels found in theGiesel godowns had been printed locally. Mr. Giesel did not order any labels, he said, and Dr. Fischer intimated that he would show the labels were ordered by and printed for Reid's, Limited.

At the afternoon session A. C. Mack was questioned regarding the taking of the 227 cases of vermouth from the Giesel godowns, the Court inquiring particularly how this was possible without a delivery order. Mr. Giesel, also questioned on the matter, pleaded ignorance of the whole matter. He had only found it out since the proceedings were instituted. He himself had not had access to the godowns and his information was all heresay. He thought the godown man was responsible. He was not, however, interested in these goods.

"Not interested in the selling of them?" inquired the Assessor.

"The bank told us they wanted to sell. We were not authorised to sell or to take them away. If we had intended to sell we would have to notify the bank first."

The Court inquired of Mack why he had put in his statement that he had told Mr. Giesel of selling 220 cases of vermouth. Mack in reply denied it.

COURT GRILLS MACK

The Chinese godown man was then called and said that he was ordered by Mack to take the vermouth from the godowns to his home where he was to keep it. He was also given a letter bearing for letterhead the words Societa Italiana and stating that the goods were the property of the Italian society. He was to show this to police if necessary. Police investigation has failed to turn up any knowledge of any such society or firm.

Mack, who had previously denied knowledge of this letter, was again questioned on the point by the Court.

'I asked you if you knew anything of this letter," the Assessor said, "and you told me no."

"I may know something of it," replied the witness. He later said the letter was given by Batistizza and that he was present at the time. The letter was dated Sept. 1, the Court pointed out, while, according to Mack's story the vermouth was removed from the godowns about July 1. Mack repeated that the vermouth was taken away about the first of July. The godown man said he knew that liquor was being made. Hennessey brandy, he thought. He said that Mack gave him $10 for taking away the vermouth and keeping it and when told by the Court that Mack had told of paying him $60 indignantly declared that he had only been given $10.

A Chinese shroff was called and told of buying 100 cases of vermouth which was found to be imitation. When complaints were made and the stuff was refused it was sent back to the Chaoufoong Road godowns.

Mr. R. Alba, of the Far Eastern Bank, was questioned briefly as to activities in connection with the selling of liquors and stated that any efforts he had made in that line were undertaken out of friendship for Mr. Batistizza.

Batistizza, who is alleged to have been engaged in the blending of the liquors, will be called upon to testify at tomorrow's hearing.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Obituary

MR. MICHEL B. BURKE

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Bubbling Well Cemetery yesterday for Mr. Michel B. Burke, who died at the General Hospital on September 30, aged 56.

MRS. JAMES EDWARD COOKE

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Bubbling Well Cemetery at 4:30 o'clock for the late Mary Akum, widow of Colonel James Edward Cooke, famed for his share in the direction of the Anglo-Chinese division of the "Ever Victorious Army" in the Taiping Rebellion.

Living here since about 1840, the late Mrs. Cooke was one of Shanghai's best known and oldest residents, passing away at the age of 77, after seeing three generations of her family come into the world. She died early Sunday morning after a long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Augustus White, 625 Rue Ratard.

Three sons, a daughter, several grandchildren and a great grandchild survive. Several grandchildren are known in Shanghai for their athletic prowess, reports of sporting activities here often recounting the feats of the Ollerdessens, Whites, Cookes and Browns.

Captain Alfred Cooke, one of the three sons, arrived in Shanghai from Hankow yesterday afternoon not knowing that his mother had passed away. He learned of his loss shortly after his ship docked just before 4 o'clock, and went direct to the cemetery.

The profuse floral tributes were piled high on the grave. Among those who sent wreaths were: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tenney, Mr. and Mrs E. G. Tait, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gande, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gande, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Moller, Mr. and Mrs. Macel Darre, Mr. and Mrs. George Gundry, Mr. and Mrs. John L. sident Taft. And what agent, no matter how enthusiastic, would have the nerve to speak of the calm, gentle motion of the President Roosevelt? Or how easy it is to steer the President Wilson and keep it off the rocks?

DANGEROUS CARGO

Well, anyway, we'll be thankful to arrive under any name whatever. We have been told that there are seven tons of mahjongg sets on board, and if ever the Chinese personnel breaks into the cargo, the general cessation of other employment will make the Hongkong strike look like a factory running on twenty-four hour shifts.

Our departure from Shanghai was conducted according to Spaulding's 1922 edition. We didn't overlook one of the rules—not even the one that requires residents of a year or more to refrain from buying anything until the last few before departure, when they attempt to acquire half the Chinese Republic in forty-eight hours. One of our brightest brain-waves was the purchase of a vase-lamp for our family. Mr. Wardrobe himself, the maker of the famous Wardrobe trunks, couldn't have designed anything that that lamp could have fitted into, so we went aboard carrying it in our hand, just like Florence Nightingale. Carrying it on the boat won't be half as hard as carrying it off, because it has a wasp waist just like a liqueur bottle and it is going to require a writ of habeas corpus to prevent a customs official from undertaking an exploratory operation.

Another of our bright brain-waves was the idea that it would be a good thing to get a passport so that we could get off the boat in Japan. Accordingly we went down to the Consulate, gave a few volumes of personal information, including the date of each wisdom tooth and the first time we made a plate of fudge, had a picture taken which requires only a number on the chest to make it fit perfectly into a souvenir album at the Toms; paid ten dollars gold: told our age; and got nicked for our income tax.

THE LAST TEN BUCKS

"Of course you didn't exactly need this passport," we were told after the document had been handed over the counter. "Your old one probably would have done perfectly well as long as you didn't intend to stay over." We were consoled later by the observation that it was really better to have a new one in case any troubles should arise, but the tender grace of those ten bones that are dead will never come back to us.

After we had secured the passport and enough brass-ware to keep us busy polishing for the rest of our life, we proceeded to pack. Every time we had filled our luggage to the point where there wouldn't be room for an eel's kimono, we would look in the closet and find a cat and some more shoes. Then we would have to go out and buy another straw trunk. This continued until our baggage included enough concentrated fodder to feed a regiment of cavalry horses. Those straw trunks will probably make a great hit with the sturdy seeds of the homeside expressmen.

Our tender left at eight o'clock in the morning, which meant that the interment was strictly private. Only those friends who succeeded in sitting up all night arrived there on time. We rose hastily that morning, threw our tooth-brush into our coat-pocket, dashed to the Customs Jetty, hurled a few kind words at our friends, and steamed down the Whangpoo to the President Cleveland.

The Cleveland sailed just twenty-five hours later.

TOLLEMACHE IS STAR AT BOXING SHOW WIND-UP

Carlisle Scrapper Wins Decision Over Siemsen—Other Bouts

Sailor Tollemache of the British cruiser Carlisle won a hair line decision from Chrissie Siemsen in the main event at the Boxing Club show last night at the Town Hall when the shifty jackie gave an excellent demonstration of how to beat his opponent to the punch. Time and again Siemsen apparently scored heavy rights to the heart but each time Tollemache shot a vicious left which was just fast enough to take the steam out of the Siemsen right. Dr. O'Hara the referee, and an efficient one made the decision when the judges failed to agree.

Carlisle boxers went home with two decisions, while Young Jesu of the Boxing Club and Dealey of the cruiser fought a great draw in the stellar attraction of the evening, from a boxing standpoint. The scrap, the third on the program, was a hummer and saw the local boy go the limit to trim his seagoing opponent. Dealey came through beautifully after losing the first three rounds and certainly earned the draw.

Carlson and G. A. Johannson of the Boxing Club were the home-talent winners, the former beating Sailor Todd in the curtain raiser, which wasn't too good, and Johannson winning from Foster of the Navy after a hard fight which saw the sailor in a bad way several times.

The local boy had a longer range and used a tantalising left jab effectively, starting blood from Foster's nose in the third. The sailor was covered with blood in the fourth but came back in the fifth and staged a fighting rally that brought him many sympathisers. He was game to the core.

DRUMMER MEW WINS

Drummer Mew, a favorite both aboard ship and ashore, got the decision from young Victor Cooke, Vic making his first appearance in public, and showing well. The Shanghai lad gave away 13 pounds and it was too much. Mew had more experience and won by a goodly margin but Cooke will be heard from. He is fast, shiftly, takes care of himself well and is cool.

The second event on the card brought two men from the Carlisle on, Corporal Beer, a tall husky Marine with reach, height, medals on his breast and a Nick Altrock pose, Brown, his opponent was fat, young and tattooed. Beer wins, which leads one to believe that, after all, there is something in a name.

The main event, which started at 11:30, found the crowd in good humor for they had seen poor, medicore and excellent boxing and Petty Officer Andrew, L. S. Andrew, with Gerry officiating as Master of Ceremonies, had interspersed with a demonstration of fouls that was one of the hits of the evening. The men gave an exhibition that was highly interesting to the boxing fan depicting as it did, various blows, fouls and problems for the referee.

MAIN BOUT LIVELY

Chris Siemsen was the favorite for the star bout of the night and if memory serves rightly, he has a decision over Tollemache. Everyone in the house quarreled with the nickname given Siemsen for there was nothing "baby" about him through the eight sessions.

They felt one another out for a couple of frame and then Tollemache staged a little surprise party in Round Three. He beat Siemsen to the punch several times and cut loose a long flail-like, round house, out-curve swing which landed rather far back but was one of the disturbing variety.

The fourth was even and Siemsen started the fifth with the rush, raining rights and lefts to Tollemache's heart and upper body, paying little attention to the head. Siemsen took this round as he did the seventh. Tollemache grabbed off the third and sixth and the first, second and fourth were even, the writer figured. Thus it was the last round which decided Doc O'Hara and he pointed to the sailor.

Messrs. Beatty and Holland acted as judges last night, their decisions meeting with general approval. Commander Phaxted was the timer. Another man who must be mentioned is G. W. Parkes, secretary of the Amateur Boxing Club and boxing instructor at the Public School for Boys. He made the arrangements, hurried the boxers, had everything set for the show—and in addition interested, trained and taught several of the boys who took part.

There was one criticism and the defect will probably be remedied tonight. The ring floor was not covered with canvas and should have been. The fighters slipped and the ringside fans ate resin.

Tonight's program starts promptly at 9 o'clock.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

There is nothing so good for muscular rheumatism, sprains, lameness, cramps of the muscles, bruises and like injuries as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It will effect a cure in less time than any other treatment.

Sold everywhere.

TONIGHT'S CONTESTS

HOPPY'S STARS AND HURON TO PLAY BASEBALL

Games For Saturday And Sunday Have Been Arranged

One of the first things the sailors on the Huron did when they arrived in port yesterday was to make inquiries about the prospects for some baseball games, and it didn't take them long to find out that they could be accommodated.

Captain Hopkins, when told that the Hurons were looking for action, sent word that they could get all the action they wanted by showing up at the race track Saturday and Sunday, and as this was acceptable to the Hurons they promised to be there.

Accordingly, it looks like another baseball week end, provided, of course, it doesn't rain, which is a pretty sizable proviso in this town just now.

Captain Hoppy is confident that all the members of the old gang will report Saturday, and has promised the sailors to have a team on hand both Saturday and Sunday. If the rain stops Hoppy hopes to get his team out for a little practice before then, but practice or not, the Shanghai boys will be on hand Saturday, so a game is assured for that day and also for Sunday.

The sailors have been playing a great deal of baseball in Chefoo this summer, the games continuing right up to the time of the fleet's departure last week. Accordingly they are in fine trim, and will have somewhat of an edge on the local athletes, who have been idle for the last two weeks, due to the dismantling of the baseball plant here in order to give the clockers a chance to time their cat hounds at the race track.

Tippin, S.C.C.'s Fast Bowler, Transferred

Richard Tippin, the S. C. C. fast bowler, who was to have accompanied the Shanghai cricket team to Hongkong next month has been transferred to Tientsin and will not be available. This is a loss to the side and now makes three vacancies. He sails tomorrow.

FINE CONTESTS FEATURE Y.M.C.A. SWIMMING MEET

Herbert Wong Captures 100 And 220 Yard Events

A crowded and enthusiastic audience saw the annual swimming races at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday night. The competitions in all the events were good and many of the finishes were so close that the spectators were in high excitement.

Herbert Wong showed wonderful bursts of speed in the 100 and 220 yard events, capturing both, winning the former by a length over his nearest rival C. V. Gensen took the 100 yard back stroke event, beating out D. C. Chen in a close finish. A. J. H. Roxburg proved himself the best all round entrant, capturing high aggregate of points. The summaries follow:

20 yds., free style. 1st Roche, 2nd C. V. Gensen, 3rd D. C. Chen, Time 10 sec.

220 yds., 1st Herbert Wong, 2nd Roxburgh, 2rd Naughton.

100 yds., back stroke, 1st C. V. Gensen, 2nd D. C. Chen, 3rd Sun. Time 89 sec.

60 yds., free style, 1st Roche, 2nd Roxburgh, 3rd D. C. Chen.

100 yds., breast stroke, 1st C. F. Yin, 2nd Schlager, 3rd A. J. H. Roxburgh. Time 91 sec.

100 yds., free style, 1st Herbert Wong, 2nd Roxburgh, Time 1 min. 9 2-5 sec.

Relay Race. Won by Roxburgh, Schlager, Roche, Gensen, Yao, Chow, Nee, Wong.

Military Leaders In Szechuen To Help Sufferers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Sept. 25.—A proclamation has been issued by the two generals here, stating that the people are suffering from the inflated prices of goods, which are principally caused by the importation of Szechuen copper pieces valued at 5 copper cents. They now forbid the importation of these coins and announce that all future consignments will be confiscated.

Shortly after the publication of the proclamation a large number of boxes of copper cents were seized by the military as they were leaving the Yuin-yang Maru which had arrived from Chungking.

On Sept. 21 large fires were kindled on the fore-shore opposite the Customs House, and it was learned that the recent seizures of opium to the amount of 21 piculs were to be burned.

Steamers are now running very regularly to Chungking and are not being much interfered with. Freights have risen a little, and now Tls. 3 is the price for a bale of cotton yarn from Ichang to Chungking. Chinese passenger fares have also advanced and are now quoted at $15, $20 and $50 for deck, second and first class respectively.

It is understood that an agitation is going on amongst junkmen for a close time for the upper river, that is, that steamers be not allowed to travel on the Ichang-Chungking run between certain dates. At present it is suggested that the dates should be from the 1st day of the tenth month (lunar calendar) to the 1st day of the third month, which means from about November 19 till the same date in April. Of course the larger steamers will not be able to sail much after that date in November but we hear that one or two smaller ones are being built with the idea of keeping up steamer communication all the year round.

Spot and forward for silver were each up 1-16d in London on Saturday. The New York price advanced to 68⅞ cents and the London-New York cross rate declined to 437½.

At the opening our official rates were unchanged from Saturday and the market was easy. However, the Sterling rate was nevertheless raised to 3-5 1/16, the Gold Dollar rate to 75¾, the Yen rate dropped to 64 and the other rates changed accordingly.

Before the change in rates business in Sterling had been done at 3-5⅝ for October-November-December delivery and in Gold Dollars at 75⅞.

However after the change in rates the market steadied up and in fact became firm, with sellers of Sterling at the Tiffin interval at 3-5⅞ for October-November delivery and 3-5 15-16 for forward.

In the afternoon the market was for a time even stronger than this, a fair amount of business in Sterling being done at 3s. 5 1/16d. October-November delivery and 3s. 6d. for December delivery, and in Gold Dollars at 76½ October-November and 75⅝ December delivery. At the close however there were buyers rather than sellers at these rates.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 63⅛ October and 63 December with buyers at ⅛ point below these rates.

In the afternoon banks were quoting 3s. 6 5/16d. for Sterling bills, 77¾ for Gold Dollar bills and 1040 for Franc bills.

India bought silver in London on Saturday and the market is reported as steady. There was nothing doing in the New York market.

Looting Continues In Fukien; Bandits Offered Ransom

(Eastern News Agency)

Foochow, Oct. 1.—The troops under the command of General Hsu Chung-chi having invaded the districts of Chienyang and Chienning, the political situation in Fukien has come to be greatly disturbed with the result that many refugees are arriving here and the public are in an uproar.

There has been a run on the Fukien Bank, which, in consequence, has from today suspended its payment. General Li Houchi, Tuchun of the province, has given strict orders to the General Chamber of Commerce at Foochow to offer a sum of $500,000 in silver in addition to 100,000 tons of rice. If the orders were not to be obeyed, General Li declares, he would not hold himself responsible for the peace and order in the province. The General Chamber of Commerce is now panic-stricken.

A Franco-German Economic Entente

A GREAT German industrialist and a French Senator representing 130,000 proprietors of the regions ravaged by the Germans have reached an agreement which it is hoped will lead to making good thirteen billion francs of losses. It is a small instalment of Germany's total bill, but represents a great advance over futile political conferences. The bankers have presented a united front from the beginning, their minimum and maximum remgining now what was originally declared by the United States to be the sole path to financial health. Now come the industrialists with another agreement between nationals of Governments unable to agree. Other agreements may follow between other groups. Wars make strange rearrangements between nations which have been enemies and allies in almost every possible combination.

The acceptance by France is more significant than the German proposal to pay in goods rather than in gold marks. Hitherto France has objected on the ground that reparations in goods or services would be prejudicial to French workers. That objection cannot lie to the proposal now to furnish German materials to be used by French workers. It benefits Germany by allowing payment in marks at home for exports of goods. Differences of price levels are to be arranged by negotiation. One of the lessons of war finance was that the burden of production and destruction necessary for hostilities must be borne during the fighting, and that finance can provide only for future redistribution of the losses. But France as a whole will benefit by whatever it receives from Germany in reparation of damages. France has already spent many million francs in restorations. Materials from Germany will not repay those disbursements nor balance the French budget, but France will benefit by Germany's reduction of her bill.

The beginning of the present Franco-German economic entente dates from September, 1921, when French and German Ministers arranged it at Wiesbaden. Hugo Stinnes then opposed it, and Rathenau has been assassinated. Some German comments now chide Stinnes for reconsidering his position and accepting a commission of 6 percent on the amount involved. "Patriotism for 6 percent" is the sneer. Other similar bargains would be cheap at the price. Between the Wiesbaden agreement and the one lacking only Government ratification there is enough difference to acquit Stinnes of inconsistency, if he cares about the accusation.

Present Peking "Crisis" Is Positively The Worst Ever

(China Press Correspondence.

Peking, Sept. 30.—In spite of the issue of what is known as the ten million dollar eight percent short term bonds, Peking faces today a financial stringency yet unprecedented in its history. The Metropolitan police, gendarmes and soldiery have not been paid for three months and the residents are anxious that the new "Diplomatic Cabinet" headed by Dr. Wang Chung-hui devise the necessary means whereby a catastrophe might be averted. Because once these worthies get out of control, it might cost the government tens of millions to restore order in the Capital.

From Paoting and other military camps demands for huge military expenses are being made. General Tsao Kun alone requires six million dollars, he says, before settlement day—the Mid-Autumn Festival. The counter-offer made by Mr. Lo Wen-kan, "the Amateurish Finance Minister," of one million has been emphatically turned down while Tsao is sending emissary after emissary to call on Mr. Lo to press him for the full amount.

In the Ministry of Finance, hordes of agents of militarists throughout the country may be seen scattered about in the reception room waiting for interviews with Dr. Lo, his assistants and bureau chiefs of the Ministry. No longer is Oriental courtesy a necessity when these officials meet. Their conversation is curt and terse. Money is the demand. None is the reply.

MANY CLAIMS

While each one of the visitors is armed with a memorandum to set forth the importance of his claim, the ministry points out to them that the nation is owing the foreign powers something like $1,300,000,000 which is fast placing China on the verge of bankruptcy and China can no longer throw money into a bottomless pit built for her by the militarists, who are openly expressing dissatisfaction with the new Cabinet.

Minister Lo has already declared that he would rather abandon his office than to go back on his scheme which places the administrative expenses foremost to all other obligations. Minister Lo is a lawyer and not an economist but in his work, he is assisted by Dr. Paul S. Reinsch and Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, the latter as ex-chief of the Finance Commission and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Lo issued the bonds essentially for the maintenance of the Central Government for the remaining season of the year. But as soon as the issue was promulgated, many militarists wanted their fingers in the pie. Besides Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu, Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan of Hupeh and General Tsai Chen-hsun of Kiangse each demanded $1,000,000 worth of bonds to meet their military obligations. Admiral Tu Shih-kwei, Chief of the Admiralty, asked for the same amount. Other minor militarists are also filing their requests for smaller amounts.

CONDITIONS OF LOAN

The conditions of the new bonds are:

Amount of Issue.—$10,000,000.

Price of Issue.—$90 per $100 face value.

Interest.—8 percent per annum.

Dates of payment of interest and repayment of principal.—May 31 and November 30.

Drawings.—Redemption will be effected by ten semi-annual drawings of 10 percent each, commencing in May, 1923, and ending in November, 1927.

Security.—Deferred portion of Russian Boxer Indemnity, placed at the disposal of the Inspector General of Customs who will conduct the Loan Service on the same lines as the service of the Seventh Year Short Term Loan of 1918. This Loan bears Interest from September 1, 1922, and bonds purchased prior to October 15, 1922, will receive full Interest in advance for the quarter ending November 30, 1922. All bonds purchased between October 15, 1922, and November 30, 1922, will receive half of the current quarter's Interest in advance.

Issue Agents.—Bank of China, Peking.

Up to tonight, only $2,000,000 worth has been subscribed for. It is significant that the subscribers are mostly Peking mandarins and their families and a handful of overseas Chinese who are acting under the impulse of sentiment rather than cold reason. The Chinese bankers in Shanghai and local public bodies are opposing the issue on the ground that the conditions of the former issues had not been observed by the Peking Government.

On the other hand, Minister Lo has declared that he is determined to live up to the stipulations of this issue. All commissions in connection with the issue, he says, would be made public. The Peking Headquarters of the Bank of China is entrusted with full proceeds of the bonds and disbursements can only be made by the bank in accordance with a distribution plan formulated by the Ministry of Finance.

This plan as announced by the Peking Chinese press reduces the monthly expenses of the Central Government of $4,240,890 to $2,150,900. The reduction is made to the various bureaus as follows:

1. Wages of the Metropolitan soldiery, from $531,000 to $372,000.
2. Schools and Bureaus under the Ministry of War, from $150,000 to $75,000.
3. Metropolitan military police, from $490,000 to $343,000.

Every Sun Tells Its Life History

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

A strong case might be made out for the spectroscope on the claim that it is the greatest instrument of investigation known to modern science. Photography is a method rather than an instrument, and wherever it is applicable it enormously increases the capabilities of such instruments as the telescope and the spectroscope. Apply the spectroscope to the telescope, record their combined revelations by photography and you have human perception carried to its highest power. In the laboratory of the chemist, as in the observatory of the astronomer, the spectroscope is a wonderful analyser. It penetrates into the inner constitution of things and tells what they are made of.

Until the spectroscope was invented we did not know that sun, earth and stars were all akin in their essential nature, differing only in the number and the physical state of the chemical elements composing them. From that fundamental discovery the spectroscope has led us to a knowledge of the comparative ages of the suns, and one may also say of the planets. In its latest work the spectroscope has revealed the primary divisions in the long life of a celestial body. It bids fair to tell us eventually the secret of the birth of suns.

All this it does by simply splitting up light into its otherwise unseen components. The rainbow is the symbol of the spectroscope, the primal spectrum displayed on the sky. Therein billions of raindrops unite their refractive and dispersive powers to separate the colors of the sunlight and spread them out in a prismatic band. The traditional sign that God would never again drown the earth was shown by the invention of the spectroscope to be rather a picture-lesson hung up in the heavens to teach man the way to read the riddle of the universe.

Four principal periods of a sun's life are: first, the "giant stage," when it is huge in size, red in color, slight in density, relatively cool in temperature and simple in elemental composition—like the enormous Betelgeuse; second, the "blue-white stage," when it has shrunk in size, increased in temperature and density, become diamond-bright in radiance and grown somewhat richer in chemical composition—like Sirius; third, the "solar" stage, when it has turned slightly yellow, grown denser, begun to get cooler and has developed many more distinguishable elements—like our own sun, and fourth, the decrepit stage, when it has cooled and condensed to the point where the elements are forming fixed compounds, where its brilliancy is departing and its color has once more become red—like some of the "dwarf red stars" that look like "blood drops" on the sky. In such a state it becomes a "dying sun," and apparently must eventually be extinguished.

It is the spectroscope that has deciphered this story of creation, and is still deciphering more of it. A correspondent deeply interested in these things says he is puzzled to understand how, when many stars are seen at once in a telescope, the spectroscope avoids getting their rays mingled together so that the resultant "spectrum" is also a mixed one. The explanation is that the "slit" of the spectroscope does not admit light from all the objects in the field of the telescope, but only from selected ones. Thus a single star may be isolated from those around it by mechanically cutting out the latter, just as you can isolate a single dot on a sheet of paper by looking at it say through a narrow tube. It is in this way that the spectroheliograph—a special form of spectroscope—deals with small portions of the sun's surface.

Of course if the object in the field is a dense star cluster, the spectroscope cannot isolate a particular star unless the separation of the individuals composing the cluster is distinctly measureable. But this can be effected with a sufficiently large and powerful telescope. Thus, with the new 100-inch glass on Mount Wilson, the members of star clusters are made to reveal their individual characteristics, and can be separately photographed. The director, George E. Hale, says:

"In less powerful telescopes the stars at the center of the great globular clusters are so closely crowded together that they cannot be studied separately with the spectograph. Moreover, most of them are much too faint, for examination with this instrument (the spectrograph). At the 134-inch focus the 100-inch telescope give a large-scale image of such clusters, and permits the spectra of stars as faint as the fifteenth magnitude to be separately photographed."

Diphtheria—How It May Be Avoided.

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the culture beds, which form in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of contracting infectious diseases.

Prizes For Virtue

The real rewards of life are not decorations pinned to coats, nor commendations in the newspapers, nor the applause of crowds, nor any of these external things. They are much better than that. They are hard won joy; they are love in one's heart, peace in one's soul, and the consciousness of truth somewhere inside one's transitory, mortal carcass. The idea of being good so as to be rewarded by cheap gains is an idea that puts thumb to nose and wags fingers at itself. Nobody ever was good enough to amount to anything for the sake of a prospective material reward.

One of the repellant details of a recent effort to provide a foundation in honor of a great man was that the income of the foundation was to be bestowed as a reward of merit on persons who best carried out the political ideas of the statesman to be honored. Perhaps it is useful to have such prizes offered. Perhaps the Nobel prizes are useful. Occasionally one of them goes to a poor man who is helped by the money. But prizes for virtue will never cause virtue to abound, and it is doubtful if they will increase it. . . . What makes a character is understanding. . . . The rewards and punishments that are most effective to induce that sort of understanding are those that come along in the ordinary course of life.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

What is Castoria?

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aiding the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper of genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"My patients invariably praise the action of your Castoria," W. W. Turver M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children." J. W. Dinsdale, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"During my medical practice I know of several cases where your Castoria was prescribed and used with good results." K. Morgner, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend." Agnes V. Swetland, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria is certainly the greatest remedy for children I know of. I know no other proprietary preparation which is its equal." B. S. Schwartz, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy." H. D. Benner, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

Weather Report

OCTOBER 1

The typhoon, slackened and partly filled up by the surrounding high pressures, arrives off the Saddles and continues to progress to N. or NNE.

The winds are strong in front, more moderate in the rear of the center.

The pressure is falling anew at Guam.

Damp and showery weather with thick fog, during the morning, at the mouth of the Yangtsze and neighborhood.

OCTOBER 2

Squalls from N.W. during the night.

Overcast and misty weather.

The low center is moving away and the pressure begins to rise.
